

Our Name is Justice

Where oppression yields to freedom,
sweet Justice can be found.
When our words are backed by action,
we are the Justice sound.

When we help to feed the hungry,
the Justice cupboard's filled.
The hungry Christ stops in to eat.
Christ's hunger pangs are stilled.

When we give the homeless shelter
in which to take their rest,
it's Justice who lays down to sleep,
and Justice who's our guest.

When liberty from chains and want
comes not at human cost,
it's Justice who is rising up,
in freedom, from the cross.

When we live the Gospel message,
we light the Good News flame,
and as we bear that sacred light,
"Justice" becomes our name.
